Leadership West Virginia (www.leadershipwv.org) is now in its 26th year as the statewide education and leadership development program in West Virginia. The eight-month program identifies emerging leaders from a variety of employers throughout West Virginia and enhances their knowledge not only of the challenges facing the state, but also the state's unique attributes and diversity. Recognizing that the cultivation of new leadership is of utmost importance to West Virginia's future prosperity and progress, Leadership West Virginia works to develop and motivate a cross-section of leaders who will use their talents and abilities to inspire others and to foster a new spirit of energy, enthusiasm and vitality throughout the state. LWV is affiliated with the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce.

"Each year, the class participants are selected from a list of top-quality applicants from around the state. Individuals are selected into the program because they demonstrate leadership skills and experiences in civic activities and in their professional careers," said Pam Farris, Executive Director of Leadership West Virginia. "We continue to see an increase in the number of applicants each year and we are very pleased with the diversity of candidates in the 2017 class." Farris noted that interest in being a class member continues to be a very competitive process as the program now has nearly 1,300 alumni from across the state.

Throughout this year members of the class will travel to different communities in West Virginia to receive broad-based education on critical topics and, at the same time, have opportunities to hone their leadership skills. The locations and topics for the training program for the Class of 2017 include:

- March 23 – 24 Charleston – Welcome to Leadership Session;
- April 20 – 21 Morgantown – Education Session;
- May 18 – 19 Eastern Panhandle – Economic Development Session;
- June 15 – 16 New River Gorge – Tourism Session;
- July 13 – 14 Wheeling – Justice System Session;
- September 21 – 22 Bridgeport – Energy Session;
- October 26 – 27 White Sulphur Springs – Health Care Session;
- November 16 – 17 Charleston – Government & Commencement Session.

“Leadership West Virginia provides graduates with the skills and the knowledge in making sound, informed decisions,” added Farris. Many of the participants serve as private citizen volunteers, and many seek and serve in public office. Among the many benefits that come with being a graduate of the program is the network of alumni throughout the state. “Leadership West Virginia congratulates the individuals who were selected to this year’s class.”
